Minor in Educational Statistics and Measurement (ESM)

Doctoral students now have the opportunity to obtain a minor in Educational Statistics and Measurement (ESM). If you take 9 credits in the ESM area, in addition to any courses that are required by your degree program, then a minor in ESM will be noted on your transcript. A list of current courses can be found on the ESM program website. Obtaining a minor in ESM will strengthen your quantitative research skills, which are valued by many employers.
