The First Annual Professional Development Conference
Culturally Responsive Teaching: Classroom Practices for Student-Centered Learning

Wednesday, August 13, 2014 (9am - 4pm)
Thursday, August 14, 2014 (9am - 1pm)

University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee:
School of Continuing Education
161 W. Wisconsin Ave., Ste. #7000, Milwaukee, WI 53201

Who is Invited?
- Current and Prospective Cooperating Teachers
- All MPS Educators
- Surrounding School Districts

Four Conference Strands
Topics Include:
- Understanding Culturally Responsive Teaching
- Creating a Culturally Responsive Classroom
- Connecting with Parents and the Community
- Providing Quality Clinical Experiences

For conference attendees, undergraduate or graduate credit can be earned through UWM for:
- Supervision of Student Teaching (Currins 593-103) - (hybrid course)
- Change and Change Strategies (Currins 629-101) - (hybrid course)

For more information, email educout@uwm.edu.
To enroll, contact Robin Pagan at rpagan@uwm.edu or (414) 229-5255.

Registration & Lodging
Available June 1st: http://www4.uwm.edu/soe/community/lue/
Supported by University of Wisconsin System and University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee School of Education

For more information, contact:
Tracey Nix, Ph.D., Director
Institute for Urban Education
nixt@uwm.edu, 414-229-6507