

Give yourself an edge in the classroom and on a resume with UWM's graduate certificate in Teaching and Learning in Higher Education.

Whether you're already a higher education instructor or looking to break into teaching at the college level, this multidisciplinary, 15-credit graduate certificate from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee will set you apart from the competition.

While many graduate programs train students to become experts in their fields, few focus on the tools needed to succeed in the classroom. This certificate will ensure you have a deeper understanding of the research and theory behind teaching and learning, a real asset for your students — and your career.

As a student in UWM's School of Education, you'll have access to:

- Internationally known faculty at Wisconsin's most diverse university
- Small class sizes that allow you to really get to know your professors and classmates
- Unbeatable flexibility — classes meet once a week, alternating weeks and online (you can even do the entire M.S. program online)
- Rewarding career opportunities teaching at universities, vocational and technical colleges, or in adult continuing education programs
